INTRODUCTION

The Record Book of the Southampton Town Trustees is in fairly good preservation, considering the ravages of time, and constant handling. The record pages are sewed, and pig-skin bound. The paper is linen and good for many years more; the ink has faded but little. Where illegible, the script is so, from moisture and turning pages.

Note.—At p 262 S. H. T. R., Vol. VII, (printed) and at p 267 reference is made to a Book "not found in the Town Clerk's office," in 1927. This is a Trustees Book—1741—1826 of 800 closely written pages; the book was known, in 1885, as: "The Black Book—The Trustee Book." It was located in the custody of the clerk or secretary of the Freehold Trustees, and in 1930, they decided to have it transcribed and a verbatim copy prepared for printing in Book form. It was proposed then that the original record be sealed, as many of the Southampton town titles and mode of town government are mentioned in this ancient and fragile Book. Harry D. Sleight, a historian and retired newspaper man, was employed to take off the difficult records.
